PRISE

eave here on ock for New

The Daily Standard SOI Thesday, A December 9th, 1873. Our New Mines.—The Ric est in British Columbia. The following is an extract of a letter dated Buck's Bar, Stickeen River, Oct. 30th, and just receiv d by a firm in town: "They of papers from Warmouth and Pinchbeck, and have reported that there are no provisions have reported that there are no provisions a discrepancy in papers from the ninth Indiice. One reason for these reports is that which they know they connot hold, so they will try to keep men out till they come in with their friends. These are the richest mines in British Columbia. I have left, unsold, 400 sacks of flour; 4000 lbs, of bacon; answered. The House then proceeded to the beans and all other stuff in proportion. The election of a Speaker. Maynard nominated Gold Commissioner pro tem has taken my stock and written to some parties in Victoria nando Wood; Holman nominated S. S. Cox, to this effect, so that men should not be fooled. Mr. Lear has some provisions up here; as also has Mr. Miller, but I do not know the quantities. All of the miners here have all the supplies they want for 12 months independent of any storekeeper."

I victoria mando Wood; Holman nominated S. S. Cox, who said he was not a candidate.

The vote resulted as follows: Blaine, 190; Wood, 77; Cox, 2; Clymer, 1; Alex. H. Stevens, 1. Maynard and Wood conducted Blaine to the chair, when he made a short address, thanking the House for the honor BRITISE COLUMBIANS ABBOAD .- Mr. George Wallace, formerly in the publishing line in this Province, is now settled in Lundon, a millionaire. He made his money conducting throughout Europe and America, etc., a troupe of Japanese jugglers, perhaps the most expert ever witnessed by an audience. About eighteen months since, when on his travels, he most with and merried a handsome German lady, and when our informant saw her in London she was unable to speak a word of English. Mr. Delly, some years age in Fort street, Victoria, "running" a photograph gallery, and earlier, a fancy shop in the Occidental building, has now become "Doctor Dally, surgeon dentist." Philadelphia is the present whereabouts of Mr. Fred Dally; in that city he studied for three months the BUNAWAY .- A. Christopher's express team made off yesterday afternoon from the Goverament street stand towards Bastion ; turned the street corner there and came in collision with Mr. J. Tod's waggon which was hitched to the verandah post of the Garrick's Head, and carrying away one of the hind wheels completley disabling the vehicle. The runaway horse, undannted, got as far as the jait gate when stricking the sidewalk in his mad career completely and the waggen in the runaway horse, and a stricking the sidewalk in his mad career completely made the waggen in the run of the runaway horse. pletely upset the waggon, injuring it some-what and came to the ground himself with a heavy thud. Here the animal was secured and taken from the somewhat smashed ex-press waggon and was found to have sustain-and hardly any injury. This is the third time od hardly any injury. This is the third time, we hear, that this horse has run away.

WASSINGTON CITY .- The House was organ ized on the afternoon of Monday, Dec. 1st. James G. Blaine was elected Speaker. The Republican caucus nominees for officers of the House were elected. During the session of the Cabiset, the same day, the President formally tendered the position of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to Attorney General Williams. Col. Bristow, of Kentucky, will be appointed Attorney General. The nominations will be sent to the Senate to-

Police Count.-Kitty, and Johnny, two Fort Rupert Indiane; charged with being drunk and disorderly were fined 5s. each. Jim, a Cowichan native, arrested by constable Beecher, charged with supplying intoxicating liquor to Indians was fined $10, or in default 14 days imprisonment. Charley, a Bella Bella Indian, and Charley, a Bella Coola, charged with disturbing the peace, were each fined $1 25, or in default to go to prison for six house.

suffered yesterday seriously by loss of some 40 Xmas sheep, worried by dogs. About one-half of them were killed outright. A dog belonging to a member of the legal pro-fession, it is said, is responsible, as his animal was one of those caught in the onslaught of the fat muttons. The slaughtered animals, dressed, will be sold at auction on to-

To RESUMS .- The steamer North Pacific is about finished her repairs and will leave for Mr. Drake (Drake & Jackson) appeared for the Sound on Saturday to resume her trips between this port and the Sound, Passengers will very shortly be able to avail them-selves of the terminus of the Northern Pacific at Tacoma and travel to the Columbia river of several others, were also heard; the without break in the transit.

Jos SENTENCED TO BE HANGED .- Judge Jacobs of the Washington Territory Courts has sentenced Kanaka Joe to be hanged on the 6th of March next, at Port Townsend. We have already announced his conviction of murder in the first degree.

The 'Varsity Boat Race.

A correspondent thus writes from Oxford : The meeting of the various colleges and halls for the October term, has been promptly followed by the selection of a trial crew by the ley—with the view to the trial eight-par race, which annually precedes the great spring encounter with Cambridge at Putney. The President himself occupied the seat in the stern of the boat, and steered the following crew to Iffley and back twice, recently, Bow, Mr. Edwards, Jesus; 2, E.F.R. Gould, Exeter; 3. G. E. Smite, Exeter; 4, H. Sea-ton Karr, Corpus Christi; 5, R. M. Garnier. Keble; 6, R. E. Prothero, Baliol; 7, R. J. Browning, Lincolin; 8, F.W.H. Haines, Worcester; coxwain, R. W. Lesley, Pembroke. The selection of Mr. Lesley may be considered entirely preliminary, and can be no guide to the future formation of either the trial eights or the University crew, although it would not be surprising to see one or two of the gentlemen named thus early selected to row in the important trial race, from Abingdon to Nuneham, at the end of the year. The date of the annual four-oar races has not yet been fixed, but they will take place on a fine reach of water, from Abingdon to Nune-ham, far superior to the Oxford course.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 .- There is the best authority for stating that the Government of Spain has never since the signing of the re cent protocol expressed any inclination to have it modified, and though some alarm har been created by recent reports from Havana, there is not the slightest apprehension expressed by the executive branch of the U. S. Government of any trouble, and nothing has occurred to diminish its confidence in either the honest purpose or ability of the Spanish Government to execute its engagements Vhatever may have been suggested hereto fore as to the programme, it can now be as-certained that the Virginius will be delivered to one of our naval vessels within the next ten days, in a Cuban port, in open day. The London, Dec. 7 .- The crew of the Lochean which ran into and sunk the Ville de Havre, have arrived at Plymouth. They were brought into port by the British Queen, which took them off the Lochean on the 29th ult., at which time she was in a sinking condition. The account of the Ville de Havre disaster, as given by the rescued crew, represents that the captain and second mate of the steamer came on board the Lochean shortly after the collision and did not assist in saving any passengers, and that a majority of the French crew exhibited lamentable cowardice. The captain of the Lochean makes a statement concerning the circumstances attending the collision. After first sighting the steamer and seeing that she was coming dangerously near, the captain of the Lochean rang the ship's belle and ported her belm. The helm of the steamer was put to the star-board, but the steamer came right across the Lochean's bows. The people in the first boat from the French steamer did not say she was sinking, but the captain of the Lochean observing that the steamer was settling down, sent out his boats.

Neither the first French boat nor the second which arrived shortly afterwards, bringing first and second captains of the Ville de Havre, attempted to return, but in spite of the expostulations of all the crew which were left on board the Lochean, and the threats of her master to fire upon them, they remained alongside the ship. The clothing of the French officers who reached the deck of the Lochean was dry, showing no signs of their baving been in the water. Finally some Englishmen seized and manned one of the French boats, and went to the rescue of those who were struggling in the sea. Only one of to crush the one is almost necessarily to the French boats assisted in the rescue.

The captain of the Locheau considers that tainly to develop the other. I deny that the the great loss of life resulted from the fact modification of the tariff would entail the that his vessel drifted such a long distance from the steamer after the collision, before it was possible to return, and from the tardi-

It happened in the Lightning Creek, on Lightning Creek, on the time and the manufacturing interest, will also put in a content of protection, and, if suspension of our little paper, the Sentinel, we have no medium for recording the events Mons. B. Deffis and Mr. John Stephenson the South Wales Co. of which the deceased gentlemen were both members had a block of solid ground at the upper end of the claim that they intended to work, but in order to do so a large body of water confined in some old drifts had to be tapped, and in accomplishing this object the lives of the unfortunate men were sacrificed. According to previous surveys of the claim it was estimated that a space of some 14 feet of sound ground interrened at the time of the accident, and consewould otherwise have been, had it been sup-

On the afternoon in question Messrs. Defis and Stevenson were working in the drift, having taken the usual precaution of using "face boards" to secure it against danger, but a space of 18 inches had been left at the bottom to permit excavation. The Tariff Again.

EDITOR STANDARD :- While I fully agree with you that the opening up of the rural districts of the country by means of good highways—is an important desideratum, I am nevertheless obliged seriously to join issue with you on the general tenor of your argument in your leader of the 26th inst., under the heading of "Facile Communication." It is an error fallen into-I am sorry to say—only too frequently by public writers, in their advocacy alike of men and measures, that in seeking to establish one, they en-deaver to do it at the expense of a rival. Instead of devoting their energies for the time being to the exclusive advancement of a particular measure, and confining themselves to setting forth the full and varied merits of the cause, they seem to think it absolutely necessary to bespatter a rival cause with mud, or in other words to clothe it in an array of demerits, real or imaginary, so as to form contrast favorable to that which they are at the time advocating. This seems to me to be the mistake you have made in the leader Furniture. above referred to I am not at all inclined to accuse you (as does the Colonist) of "flopp-ing on the tariff question, but I must candidy confess that I do not think you have lately aken that broad view of the matter that would have been consistent with an old and Clothing, experienced advocate and friend of the country? In all your recent utterances on the modified tariff I find you speaking of it as something very desirable "in the interests of the farmer," but at the same time you bint,nay you openly allege, that it would be to the loss of other members of the community.

Now, sir, I emphatically deny that the modification is asked for solely for the benefit of the farmers; it is for the bene fit of the whole country; for there is no doubt that ultimately every class of the community would be the better for its operation. crush the other, and to foster the one is cer doubtedly demand that a move be made at a remedy for the evil (so justly complained of by farmers) imposed upon the country by the Canadian tariff. The matter complained of (as you know) is this: Owing to the absence of duties in favor of the farmer, the principal market in the Province is in a constant state of glut with foreign Produce, to the very serious detriment of our own producers. If the construction of highways were all that is necessary to enable our farmers successfully to compete with our neigh-bors on the other side of the line, then, un-doubtedly, you would be right, and the road allowed, would leave the farmer in no better condition than he is now," etc. I assure you, Mr. Editor, I am astonished to see anything like that from your pen. I had credited you with a correct knowledge of the subject, and that sentence displays an utter lack of ap-preciation of the question at issue. In the first place every manufacturing interest is at present protected, and all that farmers ask, is to be placed on an equal footing with their vened at the time of the accident, and conse-quently the same care was not observed as at the conviction that it would be to the interest of the manufacturer to keep the farmer posed the pent up water was so near the as "he is now?" In other countries the drive. mainstay of all ordinary manufactures, and it would be here, if it were not almost frozen out of existence. Go to the tailor, the shoemaker, the plow maker, the wagon maker, the harness maker, the machinist, etc., and ask them who is, or rather who ought to be their best customers, and the answer would undoubtedly be,-the farmers. Let then a tariff be inaugurated calculated to further the interest of the agriculturist, extend and develop thereby the farming community; and the manufacturer, instead of objecting, will be the first to rejoice at the prosperity of his neighbor, for it will be to him a harbinger of better times for himself.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, let me ask you to go on with your road business, but do not again throw overboard the tariff. The one is in no way inimical to the other. The farmer wants both, the country wants both, and the two together would make an excellent team to draw the Province out of the " slough of despond," in which it has so long been toil ing. W.
